The Name of the Game is

MEMBERSHIP SELECTION

What's Your MSQ*?

1. Have you mentioned to anyone within the past two years, the value of fraternity membership? (10)
2. Have you and your daughter, her friends or perhaps a onetime babysitter discussed going out for rush when they go to school this fall? (10)
3. Have you sent a recommendation to a college chapter in the last year? (15)
4. Do you know the name of the Recommendation Board chairman in your community? (10)
5. Do you know the meaning of the following:
RRB . . . RRBC . . . ADP . . . RA . . . NPC . . .
(2 each).
6. Does your neighbor know you are a Theta? (10)
7. Do you know whether or not she is a sorority member? (10). If so, which one? (15)
8. Have you worn your Theta pin the past year? (5)

This little quiz can give you your MSQ. If you rate 80 or above, consider yourself a Theta Superstar and go on to another article. Anything below 80 and you should keep reading!

Our collegiate members are receptive to alumnae interest and cooperation. We can provide this cooperation and help to maintain high fraternity standards. Because Theta is for a lifetime, we are as interested and concerned about the quality of membership as we were when we were collegians. So what can we do?

The most important thing we can do is join the membership selection process. The idea that our young friend, whom we dearly love, will go off to college and suddenly discover that all her life she has been waiting to be a Theta, is too chancey. Let's do something about it!

The fraternity system is an uniquely American idea. Selling is an American tradition that has become a way of life. We need to join these traditions to become salesmen for the Greek system in general and Kappa Alpha Theta in particular. In sales language we need:

- 1) To have something desirable to sell. We can offer friendship, fun, family-like atmosphere, scholastic incentive, leadership opportunities, avenues of service, encouragement in the search for excellence in all aspects of life.
- 2) To believe in what we have to sell. Only you can answer that.
- 3) To create a desire in others for our product. To do this we can apply selling techniques.

Motivate your prospect: Is she a good student? Let her know that scholarship and intellectual development the happy faces of rush

are basic to the Greek system. Point out the value of having upperclassmen, who have taken the course, interested in her as an individual. Many chapters have study workshops and offer study tutors to pledges. Is service her bag? Show her the Winter 1976-77 Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine, and let her see for herself.

Challenge your prospect: If she says sororities are not for her, challenge her to give the Greeks a chance. How will she know she doesn't like them or want to be one, until she goes through rush? Is she allowing others to close her mind to exciting possibilities? Signing up for rush is a good way to make new friends, to see the full college picture, even if she decides Greek really isn't for her.

Make your demonstrations enticing: Take her to a summer Panhellenic rush party where she may meet collegians and other high school seniors who will be going off to college in the fall. Tell her of the contributions to your life that fraternity membership has made. Let her know you still enjoy that special feeling of friendship you have when you meet someone for the first time and discover that she is a Theta.

Once you sell the idea of Greek membership, the rest is up to the college chapter. They have a selling job of their own to do. Let them know that your hot prospect is on her way. Send your recommendation.

These pictures tell the story . . . they are Thetas because someone cared enough to write a recommendation.

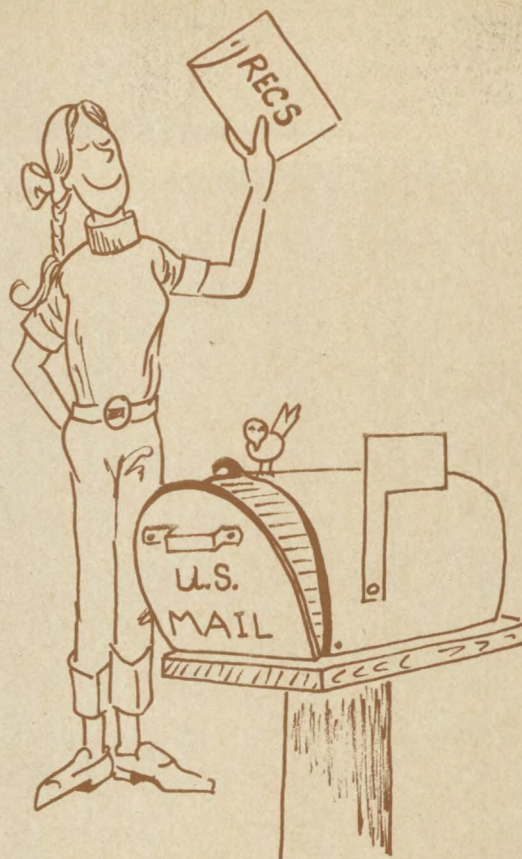

recommendations . . . BECAUSE YOU CARE

You can give a gift to a college chapter. One that will be valued highly and yet will cost you little. This gift is the voluntary recommendation . . . voluntary because you send it without being asked, just because you like a young person very much and would like for her to have the pleasures of fraternity membership that you have enjoyed these past years. Send a recommendation because it says, "I think this girl would make a great Theta. Look her over and see what you think."

Tips on Writing Recommendations

1. Send them early! Many schools have rush in August; recs are needed in early summer.
2. Attach a picture of a rushee; it helps to identify her. DO NOT ask a girl or her parent you do not know for a picture. You may leave the wrong impression.
3. Fill out the form as completely as possible. Give a grade average or the exact rank and size of her graduating class.
4. Give examples of leadership or above the ordinary contributions to the organizations to which she belongs. Describe clubs. Unknown organizations are not helpful in assessing her capabilities.
5. Comment on her character and personality in terms that best describe the girl. The chapter wants to know how to rush her.
6. Give her fraternity background, which indicates an awareness of the system and its advantages. A legacy is a sister, daughter, or granddaughter of a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.
7. Do not worry about whether or not the girl says she is going through rush; she may change her mind.

Use the form printed below or secure membership recommendation blank from Central Office or your local Rush Recommendation Board.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE OF COLLEGE RUSH INFORMATION

ALUMNAE:

- Write recommendations on membership recommendation blanks (obtained from Central Office or a Rush Recommendation Board) or on the rush form page 7, with a letter attached.
 - To write a recommendation for a girl residing in your immediate area or district:
 1. Contact the chairman of your local Rush Recommendation Board, if known, for instructions.
 2. If you do not know your local Rush Recommendation Board Chairman, send printed rush form from this magazine, with accompanying letter giving full information to the Alumnæ District President of your district. (See Directory, pages 11, 12.)
 - To write a recommendation for a girl residing outside your immediate area or district:
 1. Send printed rush form from this magazine, with accompanying letter giving full information to the Alumnæ District President who covers the state or province in which the girl resides. (See Directory, pages 11, 12.)
- ... Send recommendations well in advance of rush dates.

RUSH RECOMMENDATION BOARDS

- Recommendations from RRBs are sent to college chapter rush chairmen or rush advisers, as listed below.

New Dates for Chapters to Receive Recommendations

Chapter Scholarship Report

BETA TOPS AGAIN

By Elynor Hendrickson, Director of Scholarship

High scholarship is the most important goal of the fraternity. Although grade point average may not be an accurate measurement of learning, it is still the best method we have, and the scholarship index is still the most accurate indicator for evaluating college chapter performance. By use of the index which reduces the all-sorority average to zero, we are able to determine the percentage position of a college chapter above or below the all sorority averages on that campus. This is important because many campuses have different grading systems and different grading philosophies. Some colleges which have been through a period of grade inflation are now deflating grades to return to the previous norm before the new trends in grading were experimented with. With pride we recognize the chapters which are 10% or more above the all-sorority average.

Theta's Newest Chapter Leads the Way

By Carol Vahue, Epsilon Epsilon editor

Wherever Kappa Alpha Theta goes she is a leader . . . not a follower. From the founding of the "first Greek letter fraternity known among women" in 1870 to the arrival of national sororities at Baylor University in 1975, Theta has been first.

In October 1975 Grand Council accepted a petition for affiliation from Delta Alpha Pi, women's social club at Baylor, which had been one of the leading organizations since its founding in 1935.

Baylor, located in the heart of Texas is a conservative Baptist institution, steeped in tradition. To nearly everyone, except the new Theta initiates, the idea of a national sorority on campus was an unforgivable break with tradition.

However, when a sorority can withstand the changes and challenges of over 100 years, it cannot be overcome by close-mindedness at one campus. Theta began to make a name for herself on the campus as the only national sorority. Now less than one year after the chartering of Epsilon Epsilon at Baylor, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Beta Phi have followed the lead of Theta and have established colonies at Baylor.

Just as these colonies are beginning to learn how their organization functions, Theta is already firmly established. Epsilon Epsilon is the strongest it has been since several years before affiliating with Theta.

The emergence of Epsilon Epsilon was not all roses (or should it be pansies?). Cathy Ryan, first chapter president sat through countless Inter-Club Council (Baylor's version of Panhellenic) meetings and listened to the local clubs speak against nationals. Consequently it was with great pride that Cathy Ryan helped initiate 25 pledges into the chapter following spring rush the year of affiliation with Theta. Cathy is now living and working in Houston and keeping up with the chapter and its activities. Now she hears reports of a chapter room bulging with 33 pledges taken in spring rush (more than any club), how chapter members perform rituals with ease and how closely cabinet members work with the advisory board.

The way was not easy, but through the struggles and setbacks chapter members have learned to pull together. They have developed a closeness and a sincerity noticeable to members and to those outside the sorority. And through it all, Theta has been a leader . . . the first national on campus and now the first firmly established chapter to prove national women's fraternities will not take away Baylor's traditions, but will simply add the prestige born of "the first Greek letter fraternity known among women."

HOUSEMOTHER HONORED

Last fall, Alpha Pi chapter at the University of North Dakota held a Housemother Appreciation Day, entirely devoted to their housemother Mrs. Betty Messner.

Two nights before the big day, the members composed a special invitation to a special dinner in her honor. The invitation was secretly taped to her door.

At the dinner, Mrs. Messner was greeted by candlelight and lace table cloths as well as a huge sign encaptioned, "We love you Mom." Each member of the chapter wrote a special little saying thanking her for all she has done. These were put into a booklet and given to her also.

During the meal, entertainment was given by the various classes, and all joined in the singing, as a serenade to Mrs. Messner.

Alpha Pi plans to make Housemother Appreciation Day an annual event.

GAMMA PSI RUSH PUNCH

The Gamma Psi's have concocted a new and delicious way to serve parched rushees something cool. This past fall we took a turn from the traditional Lime Sherbet and Sprite and served pineapple punch in the pineapple husk. The result was as pretty as it was tasty!

32 ounces pineapple juice
64 ounces "Coco Lopez" (coconut flavored mix)
Pineapple chunks of thirty-five pineapples

Clean the centers of the fruit, being careful to cut off the top third of the husk. Fill the hollow shells with the punch and a cherry, add a green straw and voila!

Cheers!
Gamma Psi

My grandfather was a hunter and a naturalist who tracked grizzly bear and timber wolf in the mountains of northern British Columbia, but I never expected to find myself dealing with wild animals let alone leading safaris through the game parks of East Africa! It was certainly a long way from the Journalism School at Northwestern University.

My first introduction to the world of African Wildlife came with Jim Fowler, former star of television show Wild Kingdom. For several years previously I had held a dignified and sensible job writing copy for the Encyclopaedia Britannica film department. But when Jim's offer came along, I jumped at the chance. My family were wildlife enthusiasts and what I didn't know (which was a good deal) I could learn.

Jim ran a company that designed, built and stocked wildlife habitats and my initial project was designing a free-roaming African animal park for Ringling Bros. Circus World in Orlando, Florida. Through this job I wrangled a trip to Africa to buy animals and gather information on the management of the parks. As soon as I stepped off the plane, I was hooked. I wanted to go back again and again.

After several years with Jim, I got a job which I hoped would take me directly back to Africa, as a consultant with a safari company, Abercrombie and Kent International. With months of work behind me in our stateside office, I finally got my chance to return to Africa as co-leader of a safari in January of this year. And what a safari!

For instance, we hadn't planned on a semi-tame cheetah living in camp with us at Ngorongoro Crater in Tanzania. But Lisa, who now roams free in the crater bottom, quickly made herself known that first morning. I opened the tent flaps wide to sniff the fresh morning air and in bounced Lisa who delicately picked her way through the tea tray and happily flopped on my recently vacated bed. Before a scream escaped my lips, I sighted her telltale collar and subsided into a heap on the floor.

While the courier (that's me) must make sure the itinerary is followed closely, she must also be erudite on the flora and fauna of the area and speak passable Swahili (the lingua franca of East Africa). She should know first-aid, the monetary exchange rate of the moment, how to bargain with the locals for anything from wood carvings to amber necklaces and know something about the mechanics of a four-wheel drive Landcruiser. I failed utterly in the last category!

Our game spotting was terrific and we were close to everything from rhino and elephant to the rare wild dog and even rarer bongo antelope. One momentous day in the Masai Mara Game Reserve of Kenya we sighted 43 lions; quite a feat. In the early morning we even saw the gorgeous orange-red globe of a hot air balloon rise silently over the Mara, for those who want to view game from the air.

Every day on safari is a new adventure for the courier as well as the client. I don't think anyone can put into words the continuous thrill of seeing animals in the wild and of meeting peoples so colorful and vibrant or seeing land so lush and varied.

A courier's job is full of daily chores and worries; and back at the office there are safari proposals to write, clients to handle, slide shows to present and invoices to get out. But the lure is ever present of the next trip to Africa where once again one can feel that wonderful anticipation of great adventure of "being on safari."

Founders' Award

for

Beta Mu

By Polly Mastroianni

Bringing home the Founders' Award to Reno from Palm Beach was an experience each girl at Beta Mu would like to have shared. Each girl surely deserved to share it, for it was the strong membership, devotion, and commitment by many years of Thetas at our chapter that make us worthy of this award.

Along with the undying support and guidance of our alumnæ, we worked toward the things that meant Theta to us: Social, Intellectual and Moral Growth; the ideals of noble womanhood and thought for others. It was these purposes and goals of Kappa Alpha Theta that guided our enthusiasm and dedication.

Beta Mu has been competing to hold the number one status on campus from scholarship to sports in order to help keep a good strong Greek System. Although our Greek System isn't very large at Nevada, we are not, by any means, weak or unnoticed. The size of our Greek System is incentive to continue making it grow by sharing friendships, helping hands, creative minds and sorority ideals. By using our talents and capabilities to their highest potential we come closer to our goal. Beta Mu Thetas are represented in campus government, various service groups and social community organizations as well, in order to enhance Greek relations. All these things help to build a unity for the Greek System as we work together to help each other.

Beta Mu has been scholarship oriented since I became a pledge in 1973. After talking to our chapter president, many alumnæ members and checking into past records, I began to see that Beta Mu has been this way for some time. Consistent membership selection is a large part of it. Scholarship ranks high as one of our considerations for future sisters. From past experience we have found that high scholarship is a basis for the most responsible and well-rounded girls. This carries over into the responsibilities that an office holds, which creates an efficient, dependable officer. It also provides conscientious members who have a desire to achieve. I could see that it hadn't just started when the pledge class of 1973 brought home the Panhellenic trophy for the highest pledge GPA. I realized it started long before. I could see what the work and experience that my sisters before had accomplished. In order to keep their work from going unnoticed, we tried hard to continue to strive for an excellent rating in order to maintain the superiority that they left for us.

It is often said that the pledge class is the "life blood" of a chapter. If this is so, it is important to select girls who hold high scholastic standards as well as strong citizenship ideals in order to keep our standards above average.

The 1974 Grand Convention filled our delegates minds with new ideas and hopes. Our chapter with the leadership of an enthusiastic president and optimistic alumnæ, set our goals with the national criteria. Each officer was made aware of these national goals. We decided to raise our chapter standards and goals even higher, looking with optimism toward the Grand Convention of 1976.

It took not only the work of officers in our chapter, but each individual member, all of us working together as a whole. With guidance from our College District President, the Advisory Board and enthusiastic alumnæ, our operations began to improve. Interest and participation of alumnæ encouraged the girls as we began to see how Kappa Alpha Theta can work after college years. Alumnæ showed they were proud of us and provided incentive to work harder for our ultimate goal.

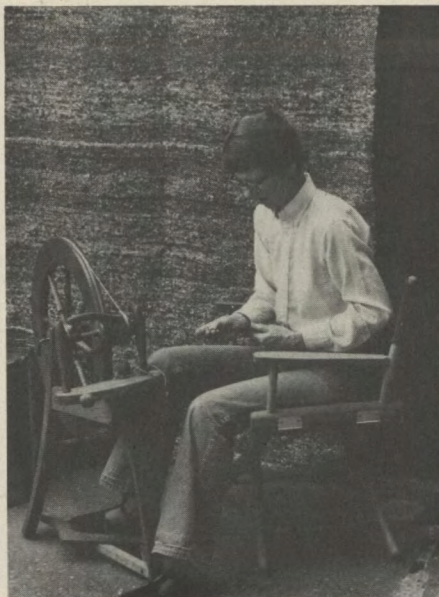

During rush week last fall, we proudly displayed our Founders' Award to demonstrate our emphasis on scholarship. We impressed this idea on our pledges and encouraged an active study table program.

I asked the members of Beta Mu why they felt we received the Founders' Award. Each answer was different but similar. They all felt it was working together of the whole chapter, each girl adding her individual talents. Our philanthropy motto, "Get involved," good scholarship motivation from former Panhellenic awards, campus and community activities are a few more reasons for our success.

Beta Mu of Reno, Nevada is proud of the Founders' Award and will continue toward excellence and high Theta standards to help the Greek System stay strong.

THETA ARTISTS AT STATE COLLEGE, PA

A kaleidoscope of art is unrolling in the works of three members of the State College, Pennsylvania, Alumnae Club

Images—revolving accents and shapes in reds, blues, yellow—shadows and lights. Figures, abstractions—captivating images flashing on the screen . . . caught up by the sound track. All these are produced by the content designer for National Instructional TV's "Images and Things," Alice Schwartz, Kappa, University of Kansas. With three degrees and a year as Fulbright scholar in Germany, Alice's career has included craft instruction around the globe. Now professor of art education at Pennsylvania State University, Alice extends her talent as an artist by teaching tomorrow's leaders in the field of educational TV . . . media arts, the TV camera, and motion picture techniques. As a diversion, Alice paints and weaves and she takes time to show special interest in Thetas both in and out of the University classroom.

Unrolling in this kaleidoscope, also, are handspun vegetable-dyed yarns, woolen rug strips, even recycled fabrics—all used in stunning rugs and tapestries designed and woven by Margery Coffin Johnstone, Psi, University of Wisconsin. After Margery studied piano and philosophy, taught logic, raised three children—she started weaving—this during sojourns in Ireland and the Middle East while on sabbatical with her husband, a professor of philosophy. Since then, her works have been exhibited in many private and juried craft shows. A member of the state Guild of Craftsmen, Margery and two friends have established a local weaving guild, including spinners and dyers involved in sales, shows, and demonstrations. Perhaps her most interesting assignment so far has been a series of small landscape tapestries used as backdrops for a show of Bonsai at the Penn State Museum of Art. Sharing her talents with Thetas, Margery finds time to take part in alumnae activities.

Shirley Buell Bernreuter, Alpha Iota, Washington University, gave up a career in art while her husband was professor of psychology and a vice-president of Penn State. She returned to drawing and painting when he retired and, in the last decade, Shirley has become a skillful professional portraitist. Working mainly in pastels, Shirley brings a new dimension to the art form. Although her favorite subjects are the human head and figure, she paints landscapes and still-lives for a change of pace. This Theta mother, the grandmother of four youngsters, has put on several one-woman shows, and her half or full-length commissioned portraits of Thetas and others are in great demand. Shirley was District President on the Eastern Seaboard in the early forties and, since then, has worked closely with girls in Beta Phi chapter advising, entertaining and contributing generously of her time and talents to all Thetas.

Charlotte Case, Gamma

A VERY ACTIVE RETIREE

Writing and music have played a tug-of-war in Charlotte Case's life since childhood. "Though I love to sing," she confesses, "I've always been able to earn more money with words." This bears out the advice her concert-singer mother gave her: have fun with music but make a career of something more practical.

Although she is officially retired from a career as a writer-editor she keeps busy teaching creative writing at Santa Barbara City College Continuing Education Division.

A member of Gamma chapter, Butler, Charlotte Wiesike Case is the daughter of an American mother and a German father. She was born in Berlin into a family of statesmen, writers, artists and musicians. "I had to be active in one of these," says Charlotte. "I could hardly escape it."

Her experience as a professional writer encompasses not only creative writing but editing, lecturing and radio. She served as assistant to the first editor of the Reader's Digest International Editions. She also wrote and conducted radio programs on music appreciation and history for the Junior League's education series.

Charlotte Case was an instructor for seven years, in the Famous Writers School of Westport, Connecticut. At one time the school boasted 100,000 students in all parts of the world. She and her husband worked as a team. They traveled and worked in many parts of the world, he as an economist and marketing consultant and she as a writer of product publicity and marketing reports.

Charlotte Case was "discovered" in active retirement when she wrote a gracious letter upon receipt of her fifty year pin last fall.

COURAGE CENTER BENEFITS

The Minneapolis Alumnae Chapter has donated the proceeds from its 1976 Flaming Festival to the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults (Courage Center). Alumnae president Jean Dalton and philanthropy chairman Jo Ellen Waterman visited the Courage Center to present a $500 check and to examine some of the equipment purchased with a previous Theta donation. Previous donations to Courage Center have enabled speech and hearing clinicians to purchase equipment such as the language master device shown in the picture and to improve services for the large percentage of the population who suffer from speech and language or hearing disabilities.

Millie Paul, Gamma Xi

INSPIRED FILMMAKER

Millie Paul, Gamma Xi, San Jose State, '67, is a film maker. Her goal has always been to make films which inspire people in some way. She has achieved her ambition with an eleven minute film, Under the Covers—American Quilts.

For the quilt lover, the movie is eleven minutes of delight, says a review in the "Quilter's Newsletter." "It is so rich in color, pattern and ideas, it is hard to absorb in one viewing."

Millie Paul received her inspiration for the film from a show at the Denver Art Museum which exhibited a show on quilts. Various scenes in the film include quilts at the famous Molly Brown House, a square dance sequence, as well as several animated sequences which show hundreds of quilts. Under The Covers has recently won a CINE Golden Eagle award (Council on Non-Theatrical Events) to represent the United States abroad, plus two other awards at the San Francisco and Chicago Film Festivals. As a recipient of grants given by the Colorado Council on the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts to be Film-maker-in-residence in Denver, Millie Paul is currently working on three film projects, which she hopes will serve as inspirations to others.

While attending U.S.C. working on her Master's Degree in Cinema, Millie served a short time as house-mother of the Omicron chapter.

AUBURN THETAS MOVE

It was only a matter of time and seniority before Auburn University Thetas would be allowed to live "on the Hill," the dormitory section where the sorority chapters that preceded Kappa Alpha Theta on that campus were housed. As one group left the campus and another was established to take its place the Thetas moved onto the Hill.

Moving day was September 9th when the girls returned for the fall term to begin rush. They found a completely redecorated chapter room which was described as "more than anyone had hoped for." Gamma Omega has held an open house to show off their new quarters to the campus and a homecoming tea for parents and alumnae.

Jean Sedgwick Pirkey, Upsilon

SHE REFUSED TO DO THE TRADITIONAL

When Jane Sedgwick Pirkey, Upsilon, graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1923 with a teaching credential in homemaking, she vowed she was not going to do the traditional and teach. She kept her vow. Her first job was with a catering service in California selling parties to movie directors. Later she answered an "ad" for a nutritionist and was hired by the Los Angeles City School Health and Corrective Physical Educational Department, the first Public Health Nutritionist west of the Mississippi.

This job was the beginning of a long and impressive career in her field as a nutrition expert, adviser, consultant, author, editor, teacher, lecturer and for 25 years, Departmental Food Administrator for the State of California's Department of Corrections. In this capacity she developed a Food Control System for 18 institutions serving 55,000 inmates and 5,000 employees. She also served on the faculty of three American Hospital Association Institutes and was a consultant for the Pacific Board of Education of the Mormon Church.

In 1972 she was appointed by the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors to a newly formed Commission on Aging, later becoming commission chairman. Projects undertaken under Jane Pirkey's guidance include protective living arrangements, occupational activities, education and long term care. She has also served as President of Meals a la Car, a feeding program for the elderly, and has served on the Advisory Council for the Sacramento Elderly Nutrition Program which serves 1,000 free meals a day for a five day week.

Dorothy Eaton Sample, Beta Rho

DUKE THETA IN FLORIDA LEGISLATURE

Reflecting the increasing involvement of women in government. Dorothy Eaton Sample, Beta Rho, Duke, was elected Representative, District 61, to the Florida State Legislature.

Dorothy Sample has degrees in Economics and Law. Licensed to practice law in North Carolina her experience includes law clerk, trial court work and assistant attorney with the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

A resident of St. Petersburg, Florida for 26 years, Dorothy has given many gratuitous hours of legal counsel and service to charitable and volunteer groups representing organizations before city councils, county commissions, school boards, state cabinets and as a lobbyist at the State Legislature. Dorothy was chief protagonist in two landmark decisions affecting the national jurisdiction of the Corps of Engineers and the Environmental Protection Agency. Recognition for her service in conservation includes: Outstanding Conservationist Award by the Rod and Gun Club, 1967; Ecology Award by the Suncoast Gem and Mineral Society, 1973; and Outstanding Service to Mankind Award by the Sertoma Club, 1974.

Dorothy Sample is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae Club of St. Petersburg.

BELLAMY ABBOTT

Two Theta Alumnae Honored by Colleges

The Rockford College Alumni Association has honored professor emeritus, Dr. A. Frances Johnson, making her an alumna of the class of 1976.

Rockford Theta alumnae proudly claim her also . . . Fran Johnson, their centerfold girl, whose picture appeared in that most prominent position in the Rockford College Alumni Magazine.

Dr. Johnson taught mathematics and physics at Rockford College from 1927 to 1961. Thousands of alumni have come to know her through the years, both as a teacher and a frequent visitor to the campus.

While still in high school, Fran became interested in physics due to the influence of the family's chauffeur. It was the custom when cars first came in to her community for young men to be hired to operate the cars. The Johnsons employed their next door neighbor's grandson who had recently graduated from high school where he had acquired a keen interest in physics. He took the time to show Fran how the car operated, including encouraging her to feel through the grease to find out how the gears worked. His enthusiasm engendered her interest in physics.

A Bryn Mawr graduate, majoring in physics, she received her Ph.D. degree from the University of Minnesota, in this subject. She also has been a student of mathematics and languages, favorite subjects earlier in life.

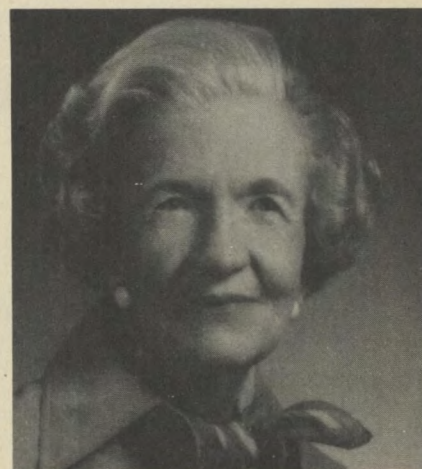

Dr. Johnson taught at an American college for girls at Istanbul. Her Turkish experience added a fifth language to her studies. At the completion of three years of teaching in Turkey she accepted a position at Rockford College.

Dr. Johnson held a fellowship in biophysics at the Mayo Foundation. She has taught at Monmouth College, the University of Vermont Medical School, and Rock Valley College.

This past spring she made her historical home available as part of the "Alumni Trail of Homes," hosted by the Alumni Club of Rockford College. The Alumni Association honored her "For her long, distinguished service to the College, for her unhesitating cooperation, for her loyal attendance at alumni gatherings, for her deep and lasting influence on the lives of her students. . . ."

Dorothy Taft Garner, Alpha Omicron

Dorothy Taft Garner of Lubbock, Texas was honored at library dedication ceremonies on the campus of Texas Tech University in mid-October.

An Alpha Omicron Theta from the University of Oklahoma, Dorothy Garner came to Texas Tech from Norman, Oklahoma in 1956 and held the position of Assistant Dean of Women. In 1964 she became Coordinator of Womens' Residence Halls and held that position until her retirement in 1974.

Approximately 500 books and magazines will be kept in the new Dorothy Taft Garner Study Library of Texas Tech's Horn-Knapp Hall complex. University administrators paid tribute to Dorothy Garner, a co-founder of Dad's Day and the Carol of Lights, two of the most well known celebrations on the Tech campus each year.

Dorothy Garner has been an active Theta throughout her nearly 50 years of membership. She has served on Theta advisory boards and corporation boards over the years and was District President for Oklahoma and Texas from 1950 to 1954. She was also on the installation committee for Gamma Phi Chapter at Tech. She is currently an active member of the Lubbock Alumnae Chapter.

Helen Stiles French

Lambda Chapter, February 1918

Grand President 1948-1952

Died January 1977

Her keen intellect coupled with a delightful sense of humor and a great zest for life will be among many cherished memories for those of us who knew and loved our former Grand President, Helen Stiles French.

A Cum Laude and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Vermont, she was a member of Lambda chapter and was active in both Mortar Board and the Theater Club in addition to her chapter activities.

After her marriage to Dr. Paul French she became an early member of the Hospital Shop which was originally in their home. Through the years it has continued to provide funds for the hospital each year. In addition, Helen served her community as a member of the governing board of the Children's Aid Society. She was an active member of the Unitarian Church and played an important part in the repair and restoration of the church building.

She served as president of the New England district of Kappa Alpha Theta from 1934-41. Then in 1945 she was appointed by Grand Council to serve as the first National Chairman of Relief and Rehabilitation (later changed to National Philanthropy). In 1947 she was elected Grand Alumnae Secretary to complete the term of Charlie Fenton Clarke. In 1948 she was elected Grand President and was re-elected to that office in 1950.

During all those years Helen served her fraternity with wisdom and humility, never seeking honor for herself. As I think of Helen I think of Learning, Love and Nobility. She truly lived in accordance with the noble ideals of Kappa Alpha Theta. I count my association with her and our long friendship one of my great privileges.

ELLEN BOWERS HOFSTEAD

BEWARE

The Good Times

By Phyllis Selig, Alpha Phi International President

This article by Phyllis Selig appeared in the Alpha Phi Quarterly. Although Mrs. Selig was addressing Alpha Phi collegians, there is a message in her article for all undergraduates of NPC groups.

Hemlines are down, rush numbers are up. Full quotas, full houses and fantastic Phis are more than enough to make everyone cheer. Out in never ending Alpha Phi Land, some have been audacious enough to ask if it's too good to be true. From this vantage point, unfortunately, yes.

There are some troubling tremors. We can ignore them, or we can face them. If we choose to put our heads in the sand, we may come up for air and find more anti-Greek feeling than we ever suffered in the 60's. The plain truth is too many girls on too many campuses aren't receiving bids. Some things need attention, not only by Alpha Phis but by our Panhellenic family.

Does the chapter that invites only 85 out of 550 registered rushees "because good means exclusive" create good will in rush week? I think not. Does the Panhellenic that has so many rush rules that a Philadelphia lawyer can't explain them build PR with the campus in general? I think not. Does control of chapter size by an Alumnae Panhellenic that doesn't want "large chapters like some schools" serve the system when 200 remain unpledged? Certainly not! Does the recruitment of more rushees to pick and choose from without raising chapter limits or adding new groups benefit the sorority image? Definitely not! But such things are happening right before our eyes.

Too often there is no real reason a girl wasn't pledged. One longtime Panhellenic adviser believes for each girl not pledged, seven anti-Greeks are created . . . the girl, her parents and at least four relatives or close friends. If this is what we do to ourselves, who needs enemies?

There is more to be aware of. In the Chronicle of Higher Education, the Ladd Lipset Survey of college faculty trends warns that teachers who sprang from the radical generation of 1960 collegians will dominate higher education through the 1990's.

The pollsters surveyed faculty opinions and population trends and found that (1) a large proportion of faculty is under 35; (2) most of these young teachers are more radical than their older peers; (3) since colleges have stopped expanding because of economic reasons and the anticipated smaller college-age populations, hiring of new faculty will be very slow for the next two decades; and (4) therefore, the current "young radicals" of the professoriate will grow old in their jobs, firmly passing their opinions on to the following generations.

Students of the 60's made life miserable for Greeks. If today's rejected rushee and the pollster's faculty of tomorrow meet, our good times will end. What can be done to see this doesn't happen?

The Counter-measures.

We and our Greek friends must pledge more members. We must increase the percentage of Greeks on campus (the current 5% to 10% in many places can hardly be bragged about). Fraternity policy demands and rushees deserve, special consideration when they have been given a letter of introduction (recommendation). The lifelong interest of alumnae is vital to the strength of any chapter of Alpha Phi. This support will not be found when girls whom alumnae are interested in are not pledged. In countless ways, rushees sponsored by alumnae have proven to be the strength within a chapter. And, chapters who use recommendations to guide their decisions find alumnae support can place a chapter among the best on campus.

With the tremors that lie below the surface, now's the time to get our house in order. If these good times turn bad, much of it will be our own doing.

Theta Concern

Your Foundation Supports Leadership, Incentive, Need, Knowledge

Foundation Life Memberships Grow

The Theta archives in Central Office contain many papers and objects important to our 107 years as the first Greek letter fraternity for women. One could spend hours, even days, looking up general information, admiring old pictures and badges, or studying the history of one's own chapter. While there, a particularly handsome volume might catch the eye, and this is a volume very special to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation. In it are inscribed the names of Foundation Life Members.

When the Foundation was formed in 1961 to further the charitable objectives of the fraternity, annual "memberships" were actively solicited. With her ten dollar contribution a Theta became a member of the Foundation and within the framework of the annual-giving program a classification was designated as Life Memberships—a total contribution of at least $1,000 made as a lump sum, or in annual amounts.

As the Foundation's assets grew and its influence reached many more Thetas as well as their communities, it became possible to include bequests as part of the overall fund-raising picture. Those making provisions in their wills for the Foundation to receive at least $1,000 now are also considered Life Members.

At present there are 71 of these special Life Members whose names are hand-lettered and preserved in the leather-bound record for future generations of Thetas to read. They have either made cash donations amounting to $1,000 or provided for the Foundation in their estates. Life Members present at Grand Convention are honored during the Foundation luncheon at which time scholarships are awarded, Community Involvement Project winners announced, and all Foundation recognition given to chapters and clubs.

All who support the Foundation are very special people who make it possible for the fraternity to offer scholarships, both undergraduate and graduate; contribute to the Institute of Logopedics; return some of the contributions to community charities through grants to those in which Thetas are actively involved; and provide leadership training and awards to undergraduate and alumnae chapters and clubs.

Listed on the following page are the current Life Members as of March 15, 1977. At the end of the Foundation's first 12 years (1961-1974) there were 40 Life Members—in 1974-75 six more were added, and the following year sixteen new names appeared. To date during the 1976-77 fiscal year, eight more have joined the rolls. We tip our Theta hats to these and all contributors to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation.
